Your business works hard, so you need hard working business internet. And you need it fast – without waiting around for months to get connected.

With Relish, you get dependable internet connectivity, guaranteed uptime and the speeds you need in just 10 working days.

Hassle free installation

If you're just setting up a new business, or moving to new offices and need to be up and running quickly, we can connect you faster than traditional leased line providers. Maybe it's because we're Londoners. (Or maybe it's our hi tech wireless technology, actually).

Thanks to our unique technology, there's no digging a path to your door or laying cables to connect. And that means there are no installation charges either.

Consistent download and upload speeds

If your business regularly needs to upload large files to the net or to share with clients, our equal bandwidth gives you the same fast speeds for both upload and download. As your connection is uncontended (you don't share your bandwidth with other customers), it will never slow you down even in peak times, unlike the M25.

Choose what you need

You only pay for the bandwidth you need right now. Choose from 10Mbps to 100Mbps+. If you need more bandwidth as your business grows, we'll upgrade your service without any fuss.

99.99% Total reliability

We know your internet connection is vital for your business, so we guarantee you 99.99% availability for your connection – that's just one hour of downtime over a whole year. We're so confident we can meet this, we even offer money back if we don't.

Simple pricing

Some other providers' leased line pricing can be complicated. Sometimes it depends on capacity of your line, your location and distance to the exchange. With Relish, we like to keep things simple – just choose your bandwidth and your contract length, and we'll give you a quote.

The nuts and bolts

We attach a small wireless antenna to an external wall or roof of your workplace, and a cable runs to a router or comms room in your premises. No digging, no mess, and no disruption.
